

Part 3 – Workflow Automation: Workflow Description and Purpose

User Point of View:

The user only has access to the Form. After submitting it, they receive an automatic email greeting them by their name and organization.

Admin Point of View:

This process guarantees that all form responses are consolidated on a single sheet, removes the need for manual data entry, and lowers errors. Additionally, it allows for immediate notifications through Slack or email whenever a new response is received, which helps the team stay in touch with participants and follow up promptly. All things considered, it increases productivity and offers up-to-date information on user engagement, attendance, and submissions.

Purpose:

This process guarantees that all form responses are consolidated on a single sheet, removes the need for manual data entry, and lowers errors. Additionally, it allows for immediate email notifications whenever a new response is received, which helps the team stay in touch with participants and follow up promptly. All things considered, it increases productivity and offers up-to-date information on user engagement, attendance, and submissions.